A UNIQUE EXPERIENTIAL WORKSHOP FORMAT

The Loyalty to Your Soul® Workshop is a weekend experiential workshop designed to provide participants with a foundational experience of the proven and practical tools of Spiritual Psychology, as developed by Drs. Ron and Mary Hulnick of the University of Santa Monica (USM), the Worldwide Center for the Study and Practice of Spiritual Psychology.

In this highly experiential workshop, you will have the opportunity for learning how to relate with yourself and others from within the context of Spiritual Reality. You’ll experience processes that have proven effective in assisting thousands of USM students in positively transforming their lives.

By participating in the Loyalty to Your Soul® Workshop, you will be immersed into what Ron and Mary refer to as the Spiritual Context. It’s a whole new way of relating to your life. It’s the way the world is going.

Come join us!

LEARN SOUL-CENTERED SKILLS AND TRANSFORM YOUR DAILY LIFE

This experiential workshop will provide participants with the opportunity to:

- Discover and explore what life is like from the context of the Soul’s reality, and understand how to use that awareness to live a more fulfilling life.
- Learn Principles of Spiritual Psychology and practice seven skills for Seeing Through Soul-Centered Eyes, which will transform the way you see, approach, and experience life.
- Replace a chronic, victim-centered “I’m upset because…” view with an empowering Learning Orientation to Life.
- Discover the difference between the Goal Line and Soul Line of life and how to use both to your advancement.
- Learn how emotional suffering can be healed and used as a doorway to Spiritual Awakening.
- Meet like-hearted Souls.
- Experience how a Soul-Centered approach automatically results in more Love, Joy, Compassion, Acceptance, and Peace.

Soul-Centered education recognizes spiritual reality and begins with the assumption that, rather than human beings who have a Soul, we are Souls having a human experience. This Principle evokes a radical paradigm shift, which results in a psychological and educational process whose goal is to bring forth the Beauty, Wisdom, and Compassion inherent in every human being.

In attending the LTYS® Workshop, I discovered some very unique ways of approaching challenging situations that I face in my life...approaches that I feel to be practical and highly applicable. I believe the methodology explored to be brilliant. So much so, that I have now enrolled as a student in the full M.A. Program at the University of Santa Monica.

From the vantage point of Spiritual Psychology, we see that we are Souls who have come here in this lifetime to fulfill spiritual curriculum. As spiritual beings, our primary goal is not to change life on this earth. Rather, life on this earth exists the way it does to provide us with experiences through which we can transform ourselves—meaning learning to express the essence of who we are in fuller and deeper ways. And the best description of our inherent nature is that we are, at our core, comprised of the energy we call Loving. So Spiritual Awakening is about becoming more and more aware of our nature as Loving beings. The irony is that the only way life on this earth transforms is when enough people transform themselves.

Dear Friends,

We all know that the world is changing rapidly. Old systems are dying and a new era is emerging. In short, the world is waking up! The two most important questions most people we know are asking are, “What part will I choose to play? And how will I prepare myself to play it?”

Most of us, as we were growing up, were taught by the exampleship of others that every time we became upset, there was a darn good reason for it! We learned ways to justify that we were “right” and the other person was “wrong.” We then blamed them for “causing” our upset. This approach didn’t work too well then, and it certainly doesn’t work too well now.

Well, is there an alternative approach, one that would work better? Absolutely! For starters, consider the premise that beneath every disturbance, or “I am upset because . . .,” there is what we refer to as an “unresolved issue.” And what’s that? Anything that disturbs your peace—and we really do mean anything. No exceptions!

Now consider that rather than justifying your upsets and nurturing your grievances, you can learn instead to utilize these unresolved issues in service to your healing and Spiritual Awakening? What if you could actually “resolve” one of these issues? What would happen then? Believe it or not, whenever that thing that disturbed your peace happened, you would simply deal with it without becoming upset.

And what do you suppose would happen if you learned how to spend less time being disturbed? You would automatically choose to spend more time experiencing loving, joy, meaning, purpose, and true fulfillment in your life.

Moreover, you’ll also discover an experientially validated answer to the age-old question, “Who am I?” You’ll discover for yourself why we say, “Unresolved issues aren’t in the way; they are the way.”

If anything we’re saying touches a chord of Truth inside of you, we sincerely invite you to join us for what promises to be an empowering, transformational weekend experience.
